Families and Clubs

- Club has a family membership offer
- Parents are, or become, club members through usual route
- Children are club members too
- Family membership offer for under 11's
- Parent(s) take responsibility for their child(ren)
- Safeguarding considerations
- Liability Insurance considerations

Young People in Clubs

- Club may or may not have a family membership offer, but will accept under 18's without a parent being a member
- Club may have a separate section for under 18's
- The under 18's are all members of the club
- Parent(s) may be present at meets
- Club will take responsibility for the young people
- Safeguarding considerations
- Liability Insurance considerations

Clubs for Young People

- Club is established for young people
- Club is run by over 18's – leaders, parents, instructors etc.
- The young people and volunteers are all members of the club
- Some parent(s) may be present at meets
- Club will take responsibility for the young people
- Safeguarding considerations
- Liability Insurance considerations

Final thoughts...

- A system that works for your club
- Safeguarding implications
- Liability insurance
- Great for re-engaging members who have had to reduced their involvement in the club
- Useful for growing membership numbers
- Early engagement with future adult members of the club
